May Sacred Auspiciousness Shine

Sacred auspiciousness — may all be bright and fortunate!
Sacred auspiciousness — may prosperity gather!
Mind itself is primordially changeless and deathless;
may there be the auspiciousness of mastery over deathless life!

Mind itself is the great treasury of noble wealth;
may there be the auspiciousness of wealth that never runs out!
Mind itself, the young child of awareness, never ceases;
may there be the auspiciousness of the family line carried on and flourishing!

Mind itself is victorious over the enemy of ignorance and delusion;
may there be the auspiciousness of cutting enemy forces at the root!
Mind itself turns the demon of self-grasping into good fortune;
may there be the auspiciousness of bad omens turned into good fortune!

Mind is self-arisen wisdom, without meeting or parting;
may there be the auspiciousness of friends who never part!
Mind itself is the medicine that conquers the great disease of the afflictions;
may there be the auspiciousness of freedom from illness and suffering!

Mind itself is auspicious connection, arising as anything at all;
may there be the auspiciousness of perfect auspicious connection!
Mind itself is the ground from which the excellence of saṃsāra and nirvāṇa arises;
may there be the auspiciousness of the goodness of existence and peace increasing!

Mind is the great purity of saṃsāra;
may there be the auspiciousness of saṃsāra emptied from its depths!
May auspiciousness be unchanging and utterly stable!
May there be the auspiciousness of happiness throughout the world!
